A Brief History of Wayne Hills

The Wayne Hills Country Club idea originated in 1953 when four Lyons' golfers – Dr. Arthur Santelli, Alfred Santelli, Bob Baer and Leon Lewis persuaded eight other area golfers that a family recreation center was needed in the area.

The Wayne Recreation Association was incorporated under the laws of N.Y.S. in March 1956 and then became Wayne Hills Country Club, Inc. in 1963.

The first nine golf holes were begun in 1959. Construction of the second nine holes with a complete watering system on both nines was started in 1964. In the year 2000 the original watering system was replaced with a new, state-of-the-art, computerized watering system.

Paul Blum, the green superintendent since day one, retired in 1994. Dick Blackwell of Lyons was the first golf professional. Wayne Hills is regarded as one of New York State's finest golf courses.
